"TORAH TODAY"

There lives in our memory a vision of a generation of people whose everyday lives reflected the purity of Torah. A period of time not long before this one where world-reknowned Tzaddikim lived in great number.

When this era was cruelly and viciously eradicated, we as a nation were left with a spiritual void. Torn away from our midst were great leaders of the highest spiritual caliber. Once again we would have to rebuild our nation to its original glory, ever-present in our minds the Kedoshim whose death would not be in vain.

Now fifty years later, looking at Torah Today, we have much to be thankful for. Hundreds of Yeshivos have blossomed the world over. Kollelim have opened in the most far-reaching cities, serving as strong nuclei for their communities. The Baal-Teshuva Movement has steadily increased, bringing into our fold thousands of otherwise lost souls. And Torah assemblies have grown to never-seen-before dimensions. We have indeed managed to re-establish ourselves, thus firmly connecting us with the Torah of that lost generation.

And now as history is being made in the world, we must continue to meet its challenge. We must reach out to the countless Jews arriving at our shores, and imbue them with the beauty of the Torah. We must also preserve our precious way of life, by strengthening ourselves with Torah. We know that Torah is our only hope in this morally-deteriorating society.

May Hashem give us the strength to continue in our endeavors to spread Torah Today.

"TORAH TODAY"

Distant memories Of a time not long ago
Vibrant shadows Of an era we would like to know
In our minds an image glowing True tzaddikim in every town
And the sounds of learning were ever growing All has vanished, never to be found
Somehow slowly The sun is rising once again
Building boldly Can we recapture what was then
We've set our hearts to form a plan Unrelenting, so much to regain
Can see the future from where we stand Let's move closer, rekindle the flame

Chorus:

השם, בעזרת השם, we will grow stronger Rebuilding again, their memory lives longer
Thousands returning, to all and who are yearning For Torah today!
Now is the time, we can go higher Our efforts combined, we will inspire
All of our nation, the next generation With Torah today!

Their life is learning They strive with great intensity
Others advancing Each day a daf devotedly
On that night they gathered To show what matters
The Torah world stood As one with pride
In silent reflection With one direction
You could feel that time was on our side (The past and future standing side by side)

Chorus:

With this to assure us Our task lies before us
Our people coming in numbers untold New brothers are greeted Commitment is needed Here's a chance, reach out and touch their souls!

Lyrics: S. Begun, Soloist: Jonathan Morgenstern

(This song was inspired by the Daf Yomi Siyum at Madison Square Garden and is dedicated to SHOROSHIM.)

תורה תהי:

תורה תהי אמונתי וקל שקי בעזרתי

ואני:

ואני תפלתי לך ד' עת רצון
אלקים ברב חסדך, ענני באמת ישעך

Soloists: Moshe Wilbur, Yaakov Zachter, Avraham Solomon, Jonathan Morgenstern

חצות:

חצות לילה אקום להודות לך
חבר אני לכל אשר יראוך

Soloists: Nathan Stark, Elisha Meyer, Yaakov Zachter.
